THREE NOTABLES INVITED TO ATTEND ALBANY CONFERENCE ON INCOME TAX

Utterances important to the future of the Democratic party may be expected when the conference of "progressive Democrats" gets in full swing at Albany, N. Y., on Sept. 2. The income tax is the measure which will come in for the preponderance of discussion, but suffrage may also receive a blow or a resolution of encouragement for Mrs. O. H. Belmont, one of its wealthiest and most ardent exponents, has been invited to attend the conference. William J. Bryan also was invited, but sent word that he could not attend because of previous engagements. However, he will send a letter to the meeting advocating the formation of income tax leagues in the various states. Senator Gore of Oklahoma and Representative Ollie James of Kentucky have been invited. Mrs. Belmont is believed to be in sympathy with the income tax movement, as was her late husband. Mrs. Belmont has gone into the suffrage fight in earnest and is prepared to spend large sums of money in furthering the cause.

NO NOTORIETY HUNTER.
Montreal, Que., Sept. 2.—Frederick Cook has been trying for 13 years to find the pole. He is no notoriety hunter and has done his work quietly. That he has succeeded now is no surprise to his friends.

This was a statement made this afternoon to a United Press representative by Harry D. Bayne, a balloon expert, engineer and collaborator with Dr. Cook in several books. Three years ago, according to Bayne, Dr. Cook took up the feasibility of reaching the pole in a balloon but finally gave up the plan. Bayne says he lived with Dr. Cook in New York 18 years ago and Dr. Cook told him his family name was really Koch and that he was a distant relative of Dr. Koch, the noted tuberculosis expert. The family changed the name when they came to the United States some years ago.

Bayne declared that Cook once considered the advisability of going to the North Pole in a locomotive built with sharp runners for ice and snow. Bayne was to make experiments in Alaska with the machine and had proceeded as far as Dalton, Mass. when the Spanish-American war broke out and he was recalled, being offered the head of the United States Signal Corps. Afterwards Cook became enamored of the balloon idea.

YALE PROFESSORS DELIGHTED.
New Haven, Sept. 2.—Professor William H. Brewer, Russell H. Chittenden, director of the Sheffield Scientific School, and other Yale professors express great delight over the news that Dr. Cook has succeeded in finding the North Pole. Each is inclined to give the reports full credence. Professor Brewer, who is professor emeritus of physical geography and agriculture at Yale, said:

"I regard Dr. Cook's feat as a great achievement, but at the same time it may add little to the scientific knowledge of conditions at the Pole. On the other hand the discovery of the Pole might be of vast importance from a scientific standpoint.

"We shall have to wait further reports. It is my opinion that conditions about the Pole are similar to the general Arctic conditions within a few hundred miles of it, and the theory of the open sea which has been advanced, is not regarded seriously."

Professor Brewer said that Dr. Cook was perhaps better able to carry out a trip of the kind than any other man in the world. His experience in climbing Mount McKinley, he said, greatly aided him in making the discovery of the Pole.

Mason F. Smith, assistant at the Yale Observatory, said he believed the finding of the Pole would be of little real scientific value, and that the only value in the discovery that he could at the present time see is the possibility of determining the mass of the Pole. To perform this operation a pendulum would have to be taken to the Pole and there hung the time of its vibration noted. Then the pendulum must be taken to the Equator and the vibration there noted. Professor Smith was of the opinion that it was improbable that Dr. Cook had attempted this fine experiment.

LUSITANIA READY TO SMASH RECORD

(Special from United Press.)
New York, Sept. 2.—The big Cunard liner Lusitania is flying down the Atlantic coast today in what seems to be a successful endeavor to land her passengers in New York tonight and smash the trans-Atlantic record. The Lusitania dashed past the Nantuxet Light this afternoon and it is expected she may land her passengers between 5 and 8. This will make the Lusitania the first real four day boat.

LICENSE REFUSED THOMAS CARROLL

Thomas Carroll who desired to get a license for 25 Middle street was also given leave to withdraw by the County Commissioners to-day. Judge Frank L. Wilder who appeared for the Law Enforcement League through whom the remonstrance against the proposed license was presented produced a record of the June term of the Common Pleas Criminal side. The 1909 showing that Carroll had forfeited a bond for keeping a house of assignation. The state law in regard to this point is quite plain in that the commissioners cannot allow a license to a man who has been convicted for keeping a house of ill-fame. Though Carroll was not convicted, the commissioners held that he practically admitted his guilt by his forfeiture of his bond.

A Night How Baby.

"Don't you ever put the baby to bed?" an astonished visitor at last exclaimed after the better part of the evening had worn away and the child of six months was still sitting up, going cheerfully. The young mother laughed. "Oh, yes," she explained with serene wisdom. "We put baby to bed at 12 p. m., and he sleeps until 12 m. Then he has his bath and goes out in the go-cart and sleeps most of the afternoon. Haven't you known many mothers who simply sacrifice all their time to the babies while they are little? I made up my mind before baby came that he would have to conform to our ways, not we conform to his. He has just as much sleep as babies who go to bed at 8 and sleep until 6, and he doesn't interfere with our evenings. We can take him with us when we go out or we can go feeling that he will be perfectly happy while we are away, because he won't cry for mother until midnight. We're regular night hawks, and so is baby."

The visitor was speechless.

"Don't you think it's a good system?" the mother continued. "We think it is splendid."

"I think," the visitor answered in noncommittal tone, "that it would take a New York mother to invent the system."—New York Press.

No Wonder She Swooned.

Mrs. Lyssander John Appleton's mother instinct divined last evening that her son, Charles Devere Appleton, was in trouble, so she took him to her room and said, "My son, tell your mother what troubles you."

It turned out that the young man was having a hard time. The girl he has been "going with" had refused him. Mrs. Appleton was indignant. She thinks it would be an honor for any girl in the west to marry an Appleton. "Why did she refuse you?" she asked her son, with fine scorn.

"Well," the boy replied between his sobs, "she objects to our family. She says pa's a loafer, that you're too fat and that everybody laughs at Dayne Mayne because she's a fool and talks about nothing but the greatness of her family." Chancey threw water in his mother's face, but at 3 o'clock this afternoon she was still in a swoon, with four doctors working on her.—Atchison Globe.
